Housing Declared Provincial Matter

Dominion Willing to Assist In Problem Says Minister

Housing is definitely a provincial responsibility but there will be federal financial assistance for any scheme submitted by the provinces that will decrease down-payments on new homes.

That was the message left in house-hungry Edmonton today by 39-year-old Hon. Robert Henry Winters, minister of reconstruction and supply.

The smiling, handsome cabinet minister made it quite plain in an interview here that the Dominion Government has no intention of getting into the housing business, as he put it.

SOUNDS OUT PROVINCES

At the same time he is completing a tour of visits to provincial governments for the purpose of ascertaining what proposals the provinces have for easing the housing situation.

"Housing is constitutionally a provincial matter coming under Property and Civil Rights. I have been visiting all the provinces including Newfoundland. The Dominion is ready to assist in solving the housing problem," the minister said.

"If we can find enough common ground to co-operate with the provinces and submit to parliament the necessary enabling legislation at the next session of parliament," he continued.

NO HINT OF PLANS

The minister did not state how far the federal government is prepared to go in the way of financial assistance, beyond saying:

"We would come in on any scheme that would decrease down-payments on new homes."

He declined too, to state a timetable for the nature of housing propositions placed before him in other provinces visited.

He did say that any enabling legislation that may be passed at next parliament would be sufficient to cover different kinds of schemes.

GENERAL IDEA

"The general idea seems to be some scheme that will stimulate ownership of their own homes by individuals and of course it will be clear that most people want to own their homes. So far there has been no overall program of low cost building or renting for all Canadians," he said.

He refused to be drawn into discussion of the merits of the Yellowhead head Pass route over other proposed routes through southern Alberta and B.C.

As to the amount of the Dominion's contribution, he observed that former Resources Minister Hon. James A. MacKinnon mentioned a 30-per cent contribution or "more" by the Dominion government.

He didn't see where a federal Royal Commission would be of much assistance in selecting the route, adding:

"The basic of participation of the Dominion government is to provide the basis for building the highway only."

Edmonton's low skyline and general openness appeals to Noel Dant, senior planner for the City of Chicago.

M. Dant, after today with members of the Town Planning and city council on the possibility of his becoming Edmonton Town Planner.

Mr. Dant spent most of this morning in discussions with Mayor Harry D. Almey and Commissioner D. B. Menzies.

A skyline generally a reflection of the minds of its people, and the general openness of Edmonton indicates a broad outlook, said Mr. Dant.

MUCH EXPERIENCE

Born in the United Kingdom, Mr. Dant has done considerable town planning in the UK, the eastern United States, and in eastern Canada.

The tendency in UK planning is now toward development of larger areas in cities with lower population densities, says Mr. Dant. British planners aim at a minimum of 100 acres of land per thousand population, while in the United States, where parkland provides no tax return, the ratio is one acre per 1000.

"I feel that three to three and a-half acres is necessary for decent living," he says.

Mr. Dant will leave the city Wednesday night and hopes to arrive at a mutually satisfactory arrangement with city fathers before then.

MONTRÉAL, Aug. 23.—(CP)—"Judges are not rubber stamps," said Justice of the Peace and magistrate, Judge Oscar Gagnon, in court here yesterday.

The judge directed his criticism at the department of revenue officer at the arraignment of the firm of W. B. Rosenberg, charged with failing to pay excise tax.

The judge asked for a $25 fine and costs.

Judge Gagnon said he did not approve of the manner in which the firm had conducted its business.

It would appear as though judges were rubber stamps taking orders from federal employees, he said, and yet you perceive this before me," he said.

After inquiring what the minimum fine was when the firm pleaded guilty, he was told it was $25 and costs. He imposed the minimum fine.

1.15 Inches Of Rainfall In Storm

Mystery Deluge Even A Puzzler To Weatherman

The unheralded deluge which sleeted Edmonton late yesterday was winging fall on the city late this afternoon.

Total rainfall in the Edmonton area over the 24-hour period which ended at 5:30 this morning was 1.15 inches.

POWER CUT OFF

The storm caused no noticeable damage in Edmonton although the power was off for about an hour in the West End and some parts were without light during the height of the storm.

Edmonton Transit System bogged down in several lights when lightning struck two street cars and heavy rains put four trolley buses out of commission.

The street cars were pushed onto the old line beyond the 84 avenue loop where two attacks had occurred within the past 12 days.

Tonight, approximately eight men, under Lieut. E. Shaver, will report for duty. The men will be deployed to known danger spots in the area of the storm.

They are assisting police in tracking down the criminal who indecently attacked two small girls, aged 2 and 5, in brutal attacks, last night.

F.O. WALTER LINEKER, RCAF
... Dies in crash

City Airman Crash Victim

An Edmonton flyer was among the 21 killed aboard the RCAF Canoe in a crash in northern Manitoba early yesterday.

He was Flying Officer George Walter Lineker, RCAF, of 12004-79.

F.O. Lineker was wireless operator and it is presumed he was in charge of communications on the ill-fated ship.

SEEN AT CHURCHILL

He was seen at the RCAF station at Winnipeg last December, later being transferred to Churchill.

The plane was pointing skywards when it crashed.

They were attracted by red markings on the plane. Part of the tail assembly was pointing skywards.

The bus was hauled to the garage to dry out.

Some buses were unable to get through mud-laden roads.

A Trans-Canada Airlines flight scheduled to leave Edmonton for Calais, France, last night didn't get underway until 11 p.m.

WORST IN WEST END

When lightning hit substation insulators at 106 street and 118 avenue, houses were thrown into darkness on 108 avenue between 106 and 118 streets.

The 115 street and 118 avenue area suffered a power shortage when a lightning switch was knocked out.

The longest blackout—more than two hours—was suffered in the area west of 127 street and north of 108 avenue.

The power was caused when wires were knocked down. Crews put them up and lightning knocked them down again.

All lead phones in to police by an around public are being followed up by the electrical department. So far 27 suspects have been questioned. All were released.

COLD AIR HIGH UP

He said the wrong forecast was tied up with the mission of cold air which was at high levels at 15,000 feet or more.

The problem, he said, is peculiar to Central British Columbia, the mountain area and Alberta.

He said that the weather is due to the fact that a big water mass lies to our west, a big land mass to our east, with cold weather to the west and hot to the east.

"Most of our 'burst' forecasts come when there is a cold mass of air moving at high altitude," he pointed out.

The weather centre has moved east giving heavy rain at Prince Albert and Saskatoon.

The storm has all but cut off Lake Superior and Lake Michigan. Telephone wires are down and heavy rains washed out sections of the highway.

Last night's rain brought the August total to 14.1 inches, 12 more than fell during the same period in 1948.

Edmonton has had 9.9 inches of rain since Aug. 1. This compares with 8.6 during the same period last year.

But the Aug. 1-August 22 figure is the highest since 1941.

Edmonton has had 13.44 inches.

The storm which hit here brought heavy thunderstorms over the area south of Red Deer and to the East.

CHARGE WITHDRAWN

At the same time, the Crown withdrew a charge of attempted murder against John Malick of Winnipeg. A charge of attempted murder was laid against George Malick, brother of John, was also withdrawn.

Charges of attempted murder were originally laid against Boyle, 26, and Dunlap.

The attempted murder charges against Boyle and Dunlap were withdrawn earlier today and the charges on which they were sentenced were substituted.

Cold War

Russia is pulling off another variation of the war of nerves with its neighbors, this time in the opinion of the U.S. State Department. Washington diplomats don't think for a minute Moscow plans war on Yugoslavia. In the near future it is expected Yugoslavia and the Balkans will be discussed at the Washington-British-Canadian economic talks next month.

Manners & Morals

It sounds like a lousy outfit, doesn't it? Anyway the cooties, feminine auxillary to Veterans of Foreign Wars, has some insulting names for its officers. Mrs. E. F. Gray, of Phoenix, was elected supreme greyback. Other officers were a supreme lady louse and a supreme keeper-scratcher.

Labor

Violence in the Bell Aircraft Corp. strike at Niagara Falls, N.Y., has resulted in arrest of seven CIO workers on disorderly conduct charges. Third degree assault charges were also laid against them. Included Edward F. Gray, sub-regional United Auto Workers' director. Non-union employees have charged strikers with "terrorism."

Military Probe

Suspended army Major-General Herman Feldman is being quizzed about his decision to fire senior James V. Hunt. A senate investigating committee will ask why he fed confidential army procurement documents Hunt. He was supposed to have received $5,000 for one effort in the "influence industry" that flourished in Washington over procurement of army contracts.

TAXI FARE'S STORY HAD A SHARP POINT

Taxi driver Mike Zigash, 9662-105A avenue, decided not to press the point last night when his fare refused to pay.

He had good reason.

The passenger had already started to press the point himself—the point of a long, sharp knife. Zigash had driven the man to the vicinity of 127 avenue and 75 street. The passenger went into his house, saying he would return with the money.

Instead he returned with a knife and told the driver he would take out the $1.60 bill in trade.

Zigash rapidly decided to agree with his passenger before he started taking it out in flesh.

Young Cattle Thieves Draw Stiff Jail Terms

A pair of young cattle thieves were given jail sentences of two years and 18 months in police court yesterday.

The pair, Joseph Semchuk, 21, and Paul Porayko, 22, both of the Oak district, had previously pleaded guilty to two charges of cattle stealing and were remanded to yesterday for sentence.

DIFFERENT VICTIMS

They admitted stealing a bull and a cow, each valued at $150. One was stolen near Legal, the other near St. Albert.

The animals were sold to a packing plant under Edmonton in a truck owned by Semchuk.

Defense counsel stated the thefts were committed to pay for repairs to the truck.

Semchuk was sentenced to two years, Porayko to 18 months.

British Extremes Of Class Change

Worker's Home Benefits Most from New Services

The following article, one of a series, discusses some of the changes that are taking place in the daily life of Britain under its Labor government—EDITOR.

By Stuart Underhill

LONDON, Aug. 23.—(CP)—Ten years ago Mrs. Middleton, wife of a senior civil servant, had a full-time maid to help with the housework and children. Now she does the chores herself, with the doubtful assistance of an old lady who "obliges" twice a week.

Mrs. Clay, a railway porter's wife, had a maid to help with the casual help of an aged midwife. Last winter another child was born. Medical authorities, fearing complications, directed her to hospital and provided a "nurse" to run the household until she regained her strength. It cost her nothing.

Their experiences represent only a tiny sample of what has taken place in Britain since the war, particularly since a comprehensive system of local security began to function in July, 1947.

Mrs. Clay, who has made out on her husband's earnings of about £275 ($5,200) a year, says: "It's wonderful!"

Mrs. Middleton is less enthusiastic. She has a maid to help with the housework, but she has to pay £1,300 ($3,200) a year, but she says that taxation leaves them little for the "extras" to which they feel entitled.

UFA Premier, Noted Oil Man Dead at 80

CALGARY, Aug. 23.—(CP)—Herbert Greenfield, 80, of Calgary, premier of Alberta from 1921 to 1925 and prominent in Alberta oil circles, died in hospital today following a brief illness.

Mr. Greenfield came to Canada before the turn of the century. He rose from a seven-dollar-a-month hired hand on an Ontario farm to become one of the leaders of the United Farmers of Alberta movement.

He was president and managing director of Calmont Oils Ltd., at the time of his death.

Born in Westoe, England, he attended the Wesleyan school, Dalton, Cumberland, for a short time. One of a large family, he halted his education to go to work for a grain shipping firm in London and carried on his studies in economics and trade on his own.

WORKED AS HAND

In 1892 he came to Canada and worked in Hamilton and Middlesex counties in Ontario as a hired man for wages ranging between $7 and $10 per month. In 1900 he married Elizabeth Harris of Stratroy, Ont., and in 1906, they moved to the Westlock, Alta., area to homestead. He developed this property into a 600-acre mixed farm.

He was active in community affairs as secretary-treasurer of the school board and president of the Westlock agricultural society.

He was president of the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts and became active in the growing United Farmers of Alberta movement. At first a Liberal politically, he joined the UFA movement as it gravitated towards politics and became vice-president of the organization.

BECAME PREMIER

He was active in the campaigning in 1921 although not a candidate. When the UFA became the power Mr. Greenfield was asked to accept the premiership. He was sworn in as August of 1921 and took a Peace River constituency seat.

In 1925 he turned over the office to J. E. Brownlee, who had been his attorney general. At the time of his retirement he pointed out in a statement that he had had a disinclination to enter public life and that his views were derived from those of some of his followers.

Following his retirement as premier Mr. Greenfield served Alberta as Agent-General in London from 1926 to 1930. On his return to Alberta he became associated with the petroleum industry.

Mr. Greenfield was a director of Home Oil Company, president of Alberta Petroleum Association and managing director of the British Dominions Land Settlement Corporation.

REMARIED HERE

His wife died in 1922 and in 1924 he married Marjorie Greenwood Gormack at Edmonton. He is survived by her; two sons, Arnold at Westlock and Frank at Nanton; a son-in-law and two step-children, Frank Gormack, of London, England, and Mrs. James Lougheed of Vernon, B.C.

A sister-in-law, Mrs. M. Banford and her son, Miss Marge Bedford, reside in Edmonton at 1084-13 street. A brother-in-law, Paul Greenwood, lives at 10716-79 Ave.

Lusty Socred Birth Cries Mature Voice in 15 Years

By Pat McVean

The Social Credit Party to day began its 15th year of government in Alberta, and one which went unopposed, practically every quarter.

On Aug. 22, 1935, William Aberhart's radical new Social Credit party was swept into power with the biggest majority vote in Alberta's history.

Recent voting vote saw hundreds queue up at polling booths and charge the dying UFA government with "gross bungling" in providing inadequate voting space.

At an Edmonton poll, electors threatened to riot when a returning officer was unable to supply them with pencils.

An invalid Social Credit supporter propelled herself to a polling station in a wheel chair to kill her husband, who after she had ended to cast his ballot for a Liberal candidate and drove off without her.

In Calgary, a welder's wife named her son after him at a hospital-bound taxi election night, "William Aberhart Holman."

FOUR EXTRAS

Edmonton Bulletin covered the election with four extras.

At 7 p.m.: "Early Returns Are Strongly in Favor of Aberhart Party."

At 8:13 p.m.: "Social Credit Scores Victory."

At 9 p.m.: "Social Crediters Sweep Ridings of Cabinet Members."

At and at 6:23 a.m. the following day: "Social Credit Sweep."

Newspapermen who prepared the extras said the night was the wildest in the memory of the paper.

Aberhart issued a statement saying the $25 basic dividend, chief platform plank of the unorthodox party, would be paid to every man, woman and child in the province as soon as the necessary machinery was implemented.

FORECAST FLOPPED

Within two days six women shoppers in Edmonton had ordered 1,000 pairs of stockings for their first dividend cheque, and leader of the five-man Liberal opposition, W. R. Howson, now Chief Justice, Howson had to tell the press Aberhart's forecast last night must be decided.

Praise of Alberta government's fostering of cultured arts was expressed by Mr. Jameson, who said Edmonton was considered as the venue of next year's drama festival, but Calgary was chosen because it has theater accommodations and the number of audiences attending the festival.

Mr. Jameson is president of the Dominion Drama Festival and is conferring here with officials of theatrical organizations on plans for the 1950 festival.

He will also attend the annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association, which opens in Banff on Sept. 1. Mr. Jameson, the association's vice-president of the association.

ONLY FULL-LENGTH

Commenting on the 1950 festival, Mr. Jameson said that only full-length plays would be permitted.

Albertan Wins Scholarship

A Westlock veterinarian has distinguished himself.

He is Dr. G. R. Whigham, formerly of Edmonton, who has been awarded the Alberta department of agriculture scholarship for obtaining the highest marks of any Alberta student at Ontario Veterinary College in Guelph, Ont.

Dr. Whigham graduated with honors from the Ontario college earlier this year, and has begun practice in Westlock.

Polio Total Reaches 30

Alberta's poliomyelitis total now stands at 30 cases for this year.

Two new cases were reported by provincial health authorities today, an eight-year-old boy from Calgary and a 20-year-old youth from Millar, a suspect case.

Grech scholars stuffed bags with cast-off wool or leaves for use as pillows.

Library Board Sees Need For Long-Distance Plan

With an eye to the future members of Edmonton's library board indulged in long distance planning yesterday.

Object of the planning was a semi-trailer which could be used as a mobile unit.

Board said that the present bus used to serve suburban Edmonton residents with books "is on its last legs."

Chairman H. Balfour told the group that $600 was needed to fix the engine of the old bus.

"Why the bus has logged more than 40,000 miles," said Mr. Balfour.

Apparently the model being used has not been manufactured for several years and spare parts are hard to get.

"We were looking for it in a Toronto bone yard," Mr. Balfour said.

The advantages of the semi-trailer was explained by Mr. Balfour.

Whereas our bus can only carry 1,500 volumes, the trailer could easily handle 4,500 volumes.

ACTION NEEDED

Members are aware of the urgency for some action because of street railway lines being torn up on Calder and Sherbrooke.

"This is done, our only mobile service will be the bus which isn't much," said Mr. Balfour.

Service which the board has called to street on Calder and Sherbrooke has been discontinued.

Motion was passed to repair the present bus at cost of $600 and finance committee was instructed to inquire into the matter and issue further consideration.

Motion was also passed for finance committee to make a comparison of wages being paid library and civic employees.

This will be for the purpose of determining whether employees will receive yearly cost-of-living bonus of $84.

Finance committee was also requested to meet with library employees and discuss pros and cons of retaining sick pay insurance for the group.

Investigation Follows Theft

A young South Side miss went to police yesterday to tell the complaint about a boy friend.

About two weeks ago the young gentleman called. After he missed a 17-jewel gold watch with flake-diamond numerals, Boy friend denies any knowledge of the matter.

Some of the "30 big shots" which his predecessor targeted with his "hot pants" have been invited to host to Mr. Manning recently when he addressed the investment dealers of eastern Canada.

Re-Distribution Of Seats Is Seen

Provincial Committee In Session Here Today

Alberta's provincial legislature may be increased in size.

Legislature seats are being redistributed to conform with changes in population.

Committee began sittings today to discuss the shuffle of seats in the legislative assembly.

Last redistribution of seats occurred in 1939.

Since then, the legislature has represented 49 constituencies and has had 57 members, with Edmonton and Calgary having five members each.

Committee meetings today and tomorrow will decide when to hold public meetings this fall to consider the changes before the people.

It is tentatively expected that public meetings on the redistribution question will be held this autumn at Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, and possibly Peace River.

Plans have been in the past to have each member of the legislature represent 50,000 to 12,000 people, and a committee meeting to day The Bulletin today the committee would probably hold to this figure.

Alberta's population has shifted from south to north in recent years.

Population has shifted from Calgary to around Ponoka in central Alberta.

Committee must consider what southern Alberta constituencies, if any, will be affected by the increase number of people, and what northern constituencies should have borders decreased to limit the number of people they now contain.

Committee includes Attorney General Lucien Maynard, chairman Robert Andison, clerk of the legislative assembly, secretary of the Legislative Assembly, party leader Elmer Roper, Vegreville MLA Michael Ponich, Peace River MLA Floyd Gilliland, and Drumheller's Gordon Taylor.

The bills will be worn with jacket similar to that of army summer dress. Although the new dress has not been finalized, the committee has yet been delivered. Lt. Brownlow said.

OFF ON TOUR

Edmonton's widely known RCAF band is polishing up its instruments and equipment for departure Thursday for an engagement at Winnipeg. From there the 40 members will proceed to Minneapolis where they will be one of the featured attractions at the State Fair.

Fit. Lt. F. E. McLennan, NWAC public relations officer, will accompany the group.

Last of Radar Planes Takes Off For East

Last of 10 radio-radar converted Dakota training planes, re-made by Northwest Industries here, left today with ferry crew for airforce training headquarters at Trenton, Ont.

Ferry crew of three was headed by FO. W. Bauman of Trenton.

The planes will be used in advanced training in the complexities of navigation by radar and communication by radio.

Equipped with the most advanced scientific equipment, cost of converting each plane was approximately $100,000.

Departure of today's plane completes Northwest's million-dollar contract with the defence department manager B. W. Pittfield.

The plane is being flown to Trenton by way of Calgary, he said.

Thieves Get Mobile Loot

Tires valued at $165 were stolen in two burglaries reported to police last night.

A man who broke into the Kingway Service station, Kingway and 101 street, stole two tires valued at $25. Entry was gained by removing heavy screening and a pane of glass from a window.

Another tire was taken from a trailer parked in front of Multari Lumbar Company, Jasper and 84 street.

The inside of the legislative assembly was broken in.

Of the cabinet members, only one was home, and the others and two still are in the cabinet.

Hon. Dr. W. Cress is still minister of health. Hon. E. C. Manning now premier was the Social Credit minister last night.

By Labor Day, Aberhart's cabinet none of whom had ever been elected to the government, will be seated in the legislative assembly.

On the cabinet members, only one was home, and the others and two still are in the cabinet.

Albertans returned the same government through the end of the depression, the war years and the post-war period in 1945, giving it almost as large a majority as resulted from the 1935 landslide.

A few old-timers sang at the returns rolling in from government constituencies, which were sufficient to give June 1 by the federal election.

CHIP SHOTS

By Hugh Watson
Three times this red-haired man has come to town. And nothing did he lack, But shed a tear for the man who lost. Whose name is Emerson Mack. A manly name, a pouter cold, Told the story true, A birdie three on the long 15th. Shamed Mack that he was in trouble. But what about the man who won? Well, it just goes to show, That a man who owns a puffer cold, Can never beat Vern Mohs.

RHYTHM, TOO

Rhythmic (well nearly) sentences come easily when describing the smooth movements of "ern Mohs" on a golf course.

Never one to worry if a shot goes wrong, Mohs had to release his own set of T formation diagrams to the press when eight variations of his own form were devised, including four new ones.

The Stukus way is reviewed here by way of indicating how rapidly variations of the T mushroom into being.

Playing Football on QT Gives Opposition the DT's

(This is the first of a series of two articles on the T-formation by Dick Headless, Bulletin sports editor. He has been using the backfield, or use of the T.)

Time was when everybody played football with a different brand of attack. But of late years practically everybody worth mentioning on the sports pages plays T-formation football.

They do not, however, play the modern kind of T which was created by a group of scientists from Stanford, named Clark Shaughnessy, among others.

Today there are practically as many variations of the T as there are football clubs in the world, modified T, inverted T, and QT.

Last month Mr. Annis Stukus, patron saint and coach of Edmonton Eskimos, no sooner had released his own set of T formation diagrams to the press when eight variations of his own form were devised, including four new ones.

The Stukus way is reviewed here by way of indicating how rapidly variations of the T mushroom into being.

The basic T formation consists of a simple T with the quarterback lined up behind the centre, and the fullback lined up in a parallel plane behind the line.

From this formation the ball handler, who receives the pass from centre, hands it to charging fullback. The latter is urged through the line or sweeps around the end.

But why all the glib about the T? Simply because it's the fastest, most devastating, most glamorous way to tear up a modern football field.

It oxes spectator appeal on every play. Percentages show that every play run by a good football club is a potential touchdown.

The fans know this, and it keeps them on edge every minute. The players too have to stay awake constantly. They can never afford to let down.

The only drawback of the formation from the spectator's point of view is that the fans haven't the slightest idea who has the ball, or where it's going.

For on a T team the quarterback receives the ball and immediately becomes a whirling dervish with a Houdini complex.

The ultimate result of his antics is still a mystery to the fans. Not to mention the players on the opposing team.

Once the ball is snapped, all the backs are required to follow, and the quarterback has to carefully carry the ball. In each play the three backs move toward the quarterback, to make it appear each is going to receive the ball.

And the quarterback moves toward them faking in the direction of each one. It gets kinda confusing.

After deploying his backfield pals, and apparently having donated the ball to each one of them, the quarterback moves suddenly and have a pass across the field.

Most of the fans, perplexed by the intricacy of the movement of the line, usually come to time to see the pass receiver hug the ball to his chest and dash over the goal line.

And you can take it from Stukus that he hopes to give the opposition the DT's from his own version of the T attack this fall.

Portland, and a virtual unknown, Miss F. E. Paynter, Sidney, B.C.

Freckle-faced Belle Davies of Vancouver won the Canadian ladies closed amateur golf championship at the weekend, aggregate score of 241 over the rolling Capilano course.

Miss Davies, solidly built 24-year-old golfer from Vancouver's Golf Drive, shot together nine-hole rounds of 41-40 for a 160-81-241 total.

In second place because a five-foot hole to drop on the 34th hole cost her victory was Miss Linda Goss, of Victoria, British Columbia, tournament's early pace setter.

Ann Sharpe, Welland, Ont., and veteran Ada McKenzie, Toronto, were tied for third spot at 247.

Final round of the closed championship served as a qualifying round for the Canadian ladies' open amateur.

It was a heart-breaking finish for Mrs. Seawright who led the field Friday with her one-under-par 77. Coming up to the final hole, she had to give up the lead to tie Miss Davies' total. But she missed a curling five-foot putt to take an 80 for a 242 total.

It was a bad day for Ada MacKenzie, veteran Canadian woman golfer, whose 249 total was 10 strokes ahead of the record field of 200.

Mrs. Tommy Vickers, Edmonton, and a young pug-nosed Seattle high school student, ran away with the fancy of the gallery as she toured Alpin Capilano in regulation figures two strokes ahead of the record field of 200.

Pat Lesser, Vancouver, young pug-nosed Seattle high school student, ran away with the fancy of the gallery as she toured Alpin Capilano in regulation figures two strokes ahead of the record field of 200.

Defending champion Grace Leedy, Indian Hill Country club, Newington, Conn., could do no better than 80 to share second with four other players: Mrs. Marion Heron, Portland, Ore., Mrs. Flo Seawright, Toronto, Gracie DeMoss, of 80.

Other members of the Alberta squad, Calgarians all, that finished fifth, fared as follows: Miss Paddy Arnold 87, Mrs. Max Bell 91, Mrs. E. C. Fuller 82.

Seattle Junior Leads Ladies Open Tourney

VANCOUVER, Aug. 23—(CP)—A lissome young lass from Seattle—she turned 16 a week ago—stood them on their ears yesterday at the qualifying round of Canadian Ladies' Open golf championship, scoring a par 78 at Capilano Golf course.

Joe Fan, however, had a 10-day tour four-bite at the previous tourney and fell flat on his afternoon, pointing out he was playing on a community course not governed by private club rules and regulations.

Charlie Smith, president of Alberta Golf association, is due back to town from Saskatchewan today with a new set of rules to take care of the Open.

From Vancouver, Ali Buoy Lefebvre, pro at Highgate, reveals chances are slim of British Columbia's outstanding 18-year-old Laurine Roland attending the Open.

Seems the R.C. Amateur is being staged the same week.

STAN MOTHER ON SPORT

Serves Him Right, Say Cynics

Annis Stukus is scheduled to toss his untried (as a unit) Eskimos into gridiron combat against the Canadian champion Calgary Stampeders just 13 days hence.

The more cynical of the citizens are inclined to suggest that it serves him right. But the gen who cut his football eye-teeth as a schoolboy in Toronto doesn't seem to be working up to an attack of the shakes at the prospect.

"Unless I'm very much mistaken," he said yesterday, "no team—not even the Stampeders—is going to push us around very much."

Use by Stukus of the expression "push us around" happens to be rather timely.

Because there are those who maintain that if Big Stuke—great player in his day but just now embarking on what he undoubtedly hopes will be a long career as a coach—is to make a success of his initial job, he's got to do something quick about certain "pushing around" he supposedly is being subjected to.

Too Many Cooks?

"Stukus won't last half the season, the way things are going now," one of these viewers-with-alarm maintained a few hours back.

"For one thing he gets too much free and unsolicited advice from the American imports. For another certain members of the Eskimo brass seem to forget they hired him to coach the club." He stressed the "him" part of it.

In that we haven't been patrolling the football beat, except occasionally, we wouldn't be certain whether the gen is on the right track or not.

But it has happened many times in the past with various sports promotions that just such a situation as this—if it exists in the Eskimo camp—has effectively greased the skids for all concerned.

And it could happen here.

It's up to Big Stuke and manager Al Anderson to insure that it doesn't. Both have a pretty hefty stake in the venture. For Stukus the job as Eskimo mentor represents his bread and butter for the next while.

In Anderson's case it so happens he's the kind of operator who wants no part of being a failure. This he has demonstrated on several occasions in the past, both as president of the Edmonton Athletic club and in other spots.

It's Your Baby, Stuke

And not that what is really a molehill hasn't perhaps been built into a mountain.

We find it hard to believe that Chuck Feneboeck, Earl McLean, Bill Mitchell, Wim and more of the T-guys from the other side of the line have been trying to steal the lead role away from Stukus.

Considering the expert grid training and background of these men the charge doesn't add up. Long since they must have learned that a kibitzer or a second-guesser operating in your own backfield can do far more damage than even the opposing quarterback, say.

We're quite sure they have.

As for undue interference on the part of members of the executive, this beef also hardly holds water. Not one of these men, from president Murray Montague and vice-president Walter Sprague on down the line, but is a pretty successful business man in his own right.

In the past six months—since first they set to work to put Edmonton back in the football big-leagues—Montague, Sprague, Bob Bradburn, Henry Singer and associates have turned in one of the top organizational jobs of all time in these parts.

We can't see them not recognizing that from here on Stukus and Anderson must pack that ball for them and without any down-field blocking, no matter how well intentioned—to help out.

No sir. Stuke, it's your baby—yours and Al Anderson's—particularly once that whistler blows September 5. So go to it, kids. Make 'em like it!

Williams Opens Lead In A.L. Batting Race

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Ted Williams of Boston Red Sox led the American league sluggers again last week.

Williams, carry-over leader from the two preceding weeks, took a long jump to better third. Williams' average was .356; Kell .311; Williams' average declined from .304 to .312. Mitchell had .319.

Other leaders in games through Sunday included John Pesky, Boston, .305; Camilo Michael, Chicago, .299; Eddie Stanky, Los Angeles, .298; and Vern Stephens, Boston, .300.

Stephens, Boston shortstop, leads runs-batted-in with 136 and also took honors for the most homers, 21.

Williams has scored the most runs, 121; Kell leads with the most doubles, 34; Williams has the most hits, 154; and Mitchell the most triples for the second straight week. Is Dillinger's 11 stolen bases is tops.

In the pitching department Allie Reynolds of New York leads again with his .300 on 12 victories and three defeats. Mel Parnell has won the most games, 19, and pitched the most complete games, 21.

Mayor's Bird in 80-Mile Victory

George Mayor's bird came home on two wings and a tailwind at the weekend to win the Gateway pigeon club's 80-mile race from Mississauga to Edmonton. The winner's speed was 808.15 yards per minute.

Other top contenders were: Bob Woods, 807.47; Bill Weir 800.17; Hugh Peden, 799.73; Leon Abbott 797.70.

Next race will be from Vermilion, a distance of 10 miles.

Rossdale Wins, 15-0

Rosedale's record descent (500 feet over Tilson yesterday) in first game of a round-robin "The baseball tournament to decide who wins Brooklyn Dodgers trophy. Next game, weather permitting, will be played at Clarke Stadium at 1 p.m. today. Westmount and Central

IT'S GAG STUFF, but fun anyway. That's Branch Rickey yielding big bat with Brooklyn Dodgers manager Burt Shotton calling for high, hard one. Old man behind Shotton impersonating umpire is—believe it or not—Leo Durocher.

Junior Football Fate Undecided

Fate of junior football in Edmonton is squarely in the lap of the senior Eskimos.

That was the word coming last night from Ted Allard of the Maple Leaf Athletic club. Said Allard:

SOUNDS LIKE A BIG FISH STORY

VANCOUVER, Aug. 23.—(CP)—Olympic, Wash., woman who fishes a home-made cane rod has angling experts here agog.

Mrs. Lionel Patton says a tree salmon she hooked Sunday near her town on Seymour Narrows tips the scales at 72 pounds—and that could be a world's record for Tye.

Her complete gear: A homemade Calcium cane rod, a year-old 12-pound test nylon line and a 10-pound test leader.

Much-Travelled Dollar Bill Makes Scotch Lassie Happy

This is the story of a much-travelled dollar bill which a little Scotch girl received as a gift—not once, but twice.

The story has its beginning in Edmonton at the home of Mrs. A. Bell, 11910-89 Street.

Mrs. Boyle, on April 8, put a dollar bill in an envelope and sent it to her granddaughter who was celebrating her birthday in Edinburgh, Scotland.

When Patricia Noble received her dollar she went to the bank to cash it and signed her name and address on it.

The dollar found its way back to Canada.

Then Torontonian J. Mavor, a Scotman by birth and a Canadian by choice for 39 years, decided to spend a vacation in his homeland.

What would you have done?

That's just what Mr. Mavor did. He cashed his dollar.

The delighted Patricia was twice as delighted when the man from Canada handed over her dollar bill once again.

Now the bill has been framed and will remain a treasure of little Patricia's forever.

And Patricia will never forget the birthday which came twice.

GETS DOLLAR

He drew some money from his Toronto bank.

Another dollar bill he received was the dollar signed by Patricia.

The coincidence was too much for Mr. Mavor to resist. When he arrived in Scotland and found the bank staying not 200 yards from Patricia's home.

What would you have done?

That's just what Mr. Mavor did. He cashed his dollar.

The delighted Patricia was twice as delighted when the man from Canada handed over her dollar bill once again.

Now the bill has been framed and will remain a treasure of little Patricia's forever.

And Patricia will never forget the birthday which came twice.

WINS ELECTION

Miss Rene Robbins of Edmonton was named director at large at Winnipeg convention of Allied Fibres and Growers of Canada Ltd.

Association elected Torontonian Cecil J. Delworth president. He succeeds J. F. Brown, Jr., of Vancouver.

BIRTHDAYS

Sometimes happen twice as 15-year-old Patricia Noble of Edinburgh, Scotland, recently discovered. Her grandmother in Edmonton sent her $1 on her birthday. She signed it and cashed it. Bill found way back to Canada. Scotland-born Canadian J. Mavor received the bill from his bank, took it to Scotland, presented it to little Patricia.

Horne Wins School Post

Driving rain greatly reduced the turnout of Beverly voters yesterday in the election to fill a school board vacancy.

Harold Horne, of 11440-44 street, was elected with a total of 24 votes, with the three other candidates failing to win their votes.

James W. Richardson and W. E. Curtis each polled 22, with Robert C. Martin getting 21.

Two ballots were spoiled.

Unofficial results are requested because of the close race. Mr. Horne will fill the vacancy which no one was willing to accept when nominations were first called in July.

Julius Summers, secretary-treasurer of the town, says no protests have been received on the $10,000 debt due him for a new dormitory school, and the matter is now in the hands of the Public Utilities Board for investigation and action.

Roving U.S. Radio Reporter Pays Brief Visit to City

By JOHN MCLEAN
Editorial Staff Reporter

Even radio station announcers have to rough it once in a while.

If you don't believe it, just ask "Happy" Al Bell of Ames, Iowa.

Happy was in town yesterday with his wife and two children, of whom, and the baby, she had been living—ever sleeping—in a station wagon for close to three months now.

How do they do it?

"It's easy," says Happy who didn't get his nickname for nothing.

But, travelling reporter and contractor of the International Radio Club of the American Legion, Al Bell of Moines, is on a 10,000 mile tour of Western Canada and Alaska doing radio interviews with the "people who make this part of the country tick."

MOVIES ALSO

And he's taking a couple of movies, too, to be shown to Iowa school children next winter.

The couple were en route to Bell's call home, rolled into Edmonton from Athabasca yesterday.

AT THROTTLE for last time after 35 years service with Northern Alberta Railways is Frank Lepine of 9540-148 street. He has logged more than a million and a half miles without an accident.

35-Years of Service Ends for City Man

Locomotive No. 51 came rolling to a slow stop in the Dumigan yards of Northern Alberta Railways here yesterday.

Jumping spryly from the cab 65-year-old Frank Lepine wiped his brow and looked back of 35 years service.

In his time he had logged more than 1,000,000 a half miles in the locomotive and with a clean record.

Mr. Lepine started with the NAR in 1914 when it was still known as the Edmonton-Dunvegan-British Columbia Railway.

Since that time he has had only one accident, in 1921, when a locomotive overturned.

Commenting on a recent letter sent by J. A. Suly, president of Dominion Road Machinery Co. Ltd., to the Canadian Manufacturers Association, the mayor said the city has gone out of its way in the past to patronize Canadian and British manufacturers.

Chickens were in the mind of Mr. Lepine when he was elected president of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, the mayor said the city has gone out of its way in the past to patronize Canadian and British manufacturers.

The city's first trolley buses were bought in the United Kingdom, and since that time the city has encouraged the purchase of entirely Canadian goods.

Ainlay Defends Machine Remarks

Mayor Harry D. Ainlay says he did not condemn Canadian road building equipment, but merely said the type best suited to the city's need is not available from Canadian manufacturers.

He plans to raise thoroughbred chickens in his modest little ranch at 9540 148 street.

Friends confided that when Mr. Lepine was elected president of Dominion Road Machinery Co. Ltd., to the Canadian Manufacturers Association, the mayor said the city has gone out of its way in the past to patronize Canadian and British manufacturers.

The city's first trolley buses were bought in the United Kingdom, and since that time the city has encouraged the purchase of entirely Canadian goods.

"Sometimes the going got hot," confided Mr. Lepine, "but I certainly have no regrets."

In It and on It can be found one set of Canadian antlers, an Indian possum basket, a half-sized parrot and a double-decker bed to accommodate the five travellers.

Bell is saving enough money to interview Canada's foremost member of the Lions Club and then headed for Jasper.

He's been with radio station WHO for more than six years. He's done everything from playing a guitar to emceeing the Iowa Barn Dance Festival.

But he likes best his job as roving reporter.

We're after human interest stories he said. "There'll be mountains and rivers in our pictures, but they'll be background only, for the people who have made western Canada what it is today."

And his broadcasts are with people who made the country and Alaska.

Bell has done many 15-minute interviews with wheat farmers, RCMP officials, Bill Martin of the famed sheep dog ranch and cattle ranchers.

He's having a wonderful time in a "wonderful country," laughed his wife, and myself are having a wonderful time. The kids have never been happier."

And as for the five of them sleeping in the station wagon, well, Happy says they are as comfortable as can be.

A few hours in traps would be good chowder by most parents providing they are reasonably certain their children will be safe from human fiends who lurk in wait in every darkened acre.

Cost of efficient policing is not all a matter of dollars and cents.

Human life and well-being is something you cannot hang a tax dollar tag on.

on the TOWN

By J. D.

Is Edmonton getting adequate police protection? From what I was told the other day by a policeman friend, Edmonton has nothing like the police personnel required to properly safeguard life and property.

For several days police have been staging a big manhunt for a person who attacked a teenage girl in the South Side Park area. So far no arrests have been made.

It was the second attack of a similar nature within a short period of time.

I asked a policeman friend how the hunt was coming along and he shook his head.

"We haven't anything like enough men for the job of policing Edmonton," these days he replied.

He told me there are only two detectives on night duty in the entire city. There are no plain clothes men on night duty at the South Side sub-station.

Sometimes when a detective takes sick suddenly there is only one man in plain clothes to investigate a crime that may occur at night.

CITY STILL GROWING

Now the latest census reveals Edmonton to have a population of close to 140,000 with nearly 40,000 living on the South Side.

Another policeman friend observed that Edmonton is now getting an influx of people from all parts of the continent. As he put it: "We are getting the dregs of many large American cities."

It scarcely seems that two detectives are sufficient to make rapid investigations for a city of 140,000 sprawled over a huge area.

Little wonder that sex perverts can stage their fiendish attacks in broad daylight as well as after dark, and get away with it.

Edmonton's traffic problems are multiplying and more police are needed for control of traffic. But at the same time I'm certain that parents of young children would rather chance accidents happening to their tots than have them subjected to hideous attacks such as occurred recently.

SHOULD PROBE SITUATION

It's time the city council held a council of war on police policing situation. I trust Police Chief Reg Jennings will tell the mayor and aldermen he needs more men in the worst way.

A few hours in traps would be good chowder by most parents providing they are reasonably certain their children will be safe from human fiends who lurk in wait in every darkened acre.

Among other things, he mentioned it was the intention to have the Dominion government take over topographic, geological structure, timber and water resources.

The minister said, there were 230 field parties, with a personnel of 1,500 men in various parts of Canada engaged in making various surveys.

He also referred to laboratory work, insect control, forestry services, national parks, mines and resources.

H. R. French moved a vote of thanks to the minister for addressing the meeting.
